Changing The World Together

Pemberton Group believes that if you invest in girls you can change the world!

Pemberton Group believes that if you invest in girls you can change the world! We are proud to support Plan International's Because I am a Girl campaign in support of girls and young women in developing countries.

It's a sad fact that women and girls account for 70 per cent of the one billion people who live on less than $1 a day. Because I am a Girl empowers girls and young women through education and development to give them the tools to break the cycle of poverty for themselves, and for their families, communities and nations. Pemberton Group is committed to supporting this important initiative and to championing the rights of women – one girl at a time, one condominium sale at a time.

Today, many condominium buyers are female or are the primary decision-maker in the purchase of a new home. In celebration of the importance of the role that women play in the new home industry, Pemberton Group has committed $250,000 in support of Plan International's Because I am a Girl program.

Plan International is a global movement for change and one of the world's oldest and largest international development agencies committed to improving the lives of children in developing countries. Their decades of first-hand experience has proven overwhelmingly that investing in girls is the key to reducing poverty for children, families, communities and developing nations.

Pemberton's support will contribute to Plan's wide range of programs that improve the status of girls and give them equal access to healthcare, education, protection, independence, and an opportunity to participate fully in society. Programs include girls' scholarships, girls' latrines and school dormitories, reproductive and maternal health programs, life skills, vocational training, financial literacy programs, microfinance, and more.

With more than 50 years of experience in creating successful residential and commercial developments, Pemberton Group has earned a reputation for building outstanding condominium communities.
